ANNOUNCEMENT

The National Life Insurance Company MONTPELIER, VERMONT, announces the appointment of

MR. WILLIAM C. WORTHINGTON

as its General Agent for the District of Columbia with offices in the Southern Building.

Room 333.

Phone Main 854.

The National Life Insurance Company, organized in 1850, has, by its able and conservative management over a period of sixty-four years, built up an enviable reputation.

The Company is operated on a purely mutual basis, and offers policy holders the most liberal terms and service that its experience has proven consistent with careful management.

Its assets of $60,000,000.00 are invested in U. S. Government, state, county, and municipal bonds, first lien mortgages on selected real estate, and loans to members on their policies, all of these investments being made in the United States.

This investment policy has long been recognized as one of articular strength and appeals to discerning policy holders as best protecting their interests.

MAN'S BODY FOUND IN BARREL Jenlousy Is Motive Ascribed in Latest Murder Mystery.

New York, Nov. 18 - Jealousy was ascribed by the police today as the mo-tive in New York's latest "barrel mur-der," the victim of which was Luigi Ma-caluso, a young Italian gangster and amateur fighter, whose body was found hidden in a barrel in a lonely section or Long Island City last night.

Macaluso had been shot through the heart and his hip joints had been dislo-cated so that the body could be doubled up in the barrel.

The police learned that Macaluso and the keeper of a saloon and dance hall in Long Island City were both infatuated with a woman frequenter of the place, and that they had quarreled over her. The keeper of the resort is known to have powerful influence among lawle
